The Red Hood And The Girl Who Wore It

Once upon a time there was a _____Adjective_____ little girl who was loved by everyone who looked at her, but most of all by _____Noun_____ grandmother, and there was nothing that she would not have given to the child.

Once she gave her a little riding hood of red _____Noun_____, which suited her so well that she would never wear anything else; so she was always called 'Little _____Proper Noun_____ Riding Hood.'

One day her mother said to her: 'Come, Little Red Riding _____Proper Noun_____, here is a piece of _____Noun_____ and a bottle of _____Noun_____; take them to your grandmother, she is ill and weak, and they will do her good. Set out before it gets _____Adjective_____, and when you are going, walk nicely and quietly and do not run off the path, or you may fall and break the bottle, and then your _____Noun_____ will get nothing; and when you go into her room, don't forget to say, "Good morning", and don't peep into every corner before you do it.'

'I will take great care,' said Little Red Riding Hood to her mother, and gave her _____Pronoun_____ on it.

The grandmother lived out in the _____Noun_____, half a league from the village, and just as Little Red Riding

Hood _____Noun_____ the _____Verb - Past Tense_____, a wolf met her. Red Riding Hood did not know what a wicked creature he was, and was not at all afraid of him.

'Good day, Little Red Riding Hood,' said he.

'Thank you kindly, wolf.'

'Whither away so early, Little Red Riding Hood?'

'To my _____Noun_____. _____Noun_____

'What have you got in your apron?'

'Cake and wine; yesterday was baking-day, so poor sick grandmother is to have something good, to make her stronger.'

'Where does your grandmother live, Little Red Riding Hood?'

'A good quarter of a league farther on in the wood; her house stands under the three large _____Noun - Plural_____, the nut-trees are just below; you surely must know it,' replied Little Red Riding Hood.

The wolf thought to himself: 'What a tender young _____Noun_____! what a nice _____Noun_____ _____Noun_____ - she will be better to eat than the old _____Noun_____. I must act craftily, so as to _____Verb_____ both.
