The Camp Counselor

It was the day before camp and everyone was very Adjective. One counselor, PA One, was especially Adjective though. It was her very first time going to Girl Scout camp, and she didn't know what to expect. She thought about all the Adjective songs they would sing and all the Adjective crafts they would make. This made her very Adjective, so she decided to go into the cabin to talk to PA Two about it, when all of the sudden she started Verb - Present ends in ING uncontrollably. PA Three Verb - Past Tense over to her and asked what was wrong. PA One explained what was happening, and PA Three said that it was probably just a case of Girl-Scout-Camp-itis and that the only cure was to go to Girl Scout camp and have the best time ever!
