Happy Birthday Andy!!

A long time ago, in a far, far, away, woops. Wrong story years ago in a land where clam chowder is considered a national treasure, there was a Noun being Verb - Past Participle
. His two proud Noun - Plural named him Name Name Last Name . His parents did not yet know how and and we would turn out to be, because in the meantime all he did was poop,, and sleep. Oh, they just loved him!
Andy was quite the By the time he was in the second grade, he could write pages upon pages comparing dinosaur carried toy Noun - Plural in his backpack in case anyone wanted to see what these majestic creatures looked like, and also so he could with them. At this age he was also schooling his teacher in the world of Noun, and has never stopped being your go-to guy if you have any question about things that fly. Andy also went through a phase that every young second grader goes through in her or her life: the experimental stage. Rumor has it that he was offered a publishing contract, but he had to decline because he was going to be busy parachuting his Noun Fluffy out of his Location in the House that day.
Time went on and Andy got Adjective ending in -er , Adjective ending in -er , Adjective ending in -er , and Adjective ending in -er . His love for Noun - Plural , Noun - Plural , and Noun remains, and he has the biggest body part (and Other Body part!) ever. Happy Birthday Andy!!! I you and hope this is your bestyet!!
