libby the pooper

Once upon a time there lived a Adjective baby. i could not belive that it was as big as a peanut WOW.My family went on a trip and i was the one who change the babys diapers the whole time.i was so mad.My dad thought they were too stinky for him so she made me change them.[He will get a really bad pay back].Yah.The baby always cried for people, food ,hugs or trying to fight sleep.Having a baby sister is really serous. We have to give her movement or attention.That was the crazies weekend.That is the story THE END...for now.
