Benny the Knitter

Once upon a time, there was a Adjective monster named Benny. Benny was a very Adjective monster, and instead of Verb - Present ends in ING people, he loved to knit! He was very talented at his craft, and every Christmas he made Adjective Noun and Noun for all of his monster family and friends. But those that were closest to him were not always kind to Benny. Benny was Adjective, and liked different things, so often he was made fun of by the other orange and Adjective monsters his age. Benny tried not to have his feelings hurt, but sometimes their growling words and Verb - Present ends in ING claws really got to him.

To be continued. Poor Benny.
