"Sonnet-writing: To Himself" Huzzah!

Young _____ should not write _____, if they dream

Some day to reach the bright bare seats of fame:

To such, sweet thoughts and mighty feelings seem

As though, like _____ things, they rarely came.

Eager as men when haply they have _____

Of some new _____, some _____,

That hath over blue seas strayed in hope to find

In our thin _____ here a summer _____

Fain would they catch the bright _____ in their _____

_____,

And _____ them into _____ as they come.

No; they should serve their _____ most _____,

Till the ripe time of song, when young thoughts fail,

Then their sad sonnets, like old bards, might _____

_____ as youth, and yet _____ and _____

_____.
