Himself

Young someone you know should not write sonnets, if they verb

Some day to reach the bright bare seats of fame:

To such, sweet thoughts and mighty feelings seem

As though, like foreign things, they rarely came.

Eager as excited animal-plural when haply they have heard

Of some new famous singer, some gay-feathered bird,

That hath over blue seas strayed in hope to find

In our thin clothing here a summer home emotional adjective would they catch the bright things in their mind,

And an enclosed area them into sonnets as they come.

No; they should serve their wants most sparingly,

Till the ripe time of song, when young thoughts fail,

Then their sad sonnets, like old a type of job, might be

Merry as youth, and yet grey-haired and hale.
