There was a Adverb a man who lived in a sea and also he was very short and stout and he was a very Adjective. He had long sleeves. he wore a blue hat and loved to eat fishticks. One Noun he was Verb - Present Tense on his Adverb grave when a fairy sunatered up to him. Is Determiner for real or what? What? There is a Adverb on Adverb side of this site asking me if I want to look at their "Deals"? What the heck. I mean, am I Adjective ladies? I feel like there are Adjective avant-garde writers who make a Noun doing annoying crud like this and in Noun their writing is probably more Adjective than a lot of Noun stuff.
