mad lib home work

One day a kid looked in a puddle and found an odd super small _____. He was confused but very interested because he couldn't find any difference from it and the real world. Every _____ detail seemed correct except it very well was minuscule. They were _____ with every thing they needed like there tiny town would never run out of anything. Soon I found a shrink gun and decided to _____ a mission of figuring out what this _____ of society is. Then, the minute I was in their city a man came up to me and in an odd language he stated an _____ that sounded like some sort of anthem, and asked me then in english why he's never seen me before. I explained the situation and then immediately a _____ grin appeared on his face. He took me to an odd shaped tower were he there me inside in the pitch blackness. Then I turned around and a tiger showed its teeth and jumped towards me. At that moment I awoke from the dream and just sat in my bed with a _____ line of sweat across my forehead.
