Mr. Chihuahua Pants

Mr. Chihuahua Pants was a           Noun          . He found a           Adjective           dog in the           Noun           that was just like him. But one time, they saw a           Adjective           animal. It was a           Noun          ! They were shocked by the           Noun - Plural           really, really           Adjective           teeth! They           Verb - Base Form           away as fast as they could. Then, they saw an           Noun           that had           Verb - Base Form           on the           Noun          . Mr. Chihuahua and his new friend were so           Adjective           that they           Verb - Base Form           on the plane! It was headed to           Proper Noun           to           Verb - Base Form           off           Noun - Plural           and their           Noun - Plural          .

When the puppies got to           Proper Noun          , they couldn't believe their           Noun - Plural          . They got off the           Noun           at the airport and saw a           Adjective           store that           Verb - Base Form           tons of different kinds of dog           Noun          . They           Verb - Base Form           into the shop because they wanted to try it all! The store clerk, Elsa, didn't know what to do since the dogs didn't have an           Noun          . But they were very           Adjective          , so she           Verb - Base Form           them anyway. After that, Elsa decided to           Verb - Base Form           the chihuahuas home to her           Noun          . The puppies were so excited to finally have a home and they didn't need to           Verb - Base Form           in the           Noun           anymore! The End.
