_____ Verb - Base Form. Everyone grabbed their favorite beverage - hot cocoa, coffee, pop, or chai tea (no one really likes chai tea).

There was a plethora of games to choose from. Cody triumphed at the chess table, defeating every challenger with ease. Tyler, Ethan, Derek and Zach decided to play spoons, but they couldn't find the spoons so they played with plastic knives. Two tables were pushed together for an epic game of Uno. Around the room, the world's problems were solved by the great philosophers of the youth group.

Over the next three hours, copious amounts of caffeine were consumed. Ethan laughed so hard that he cried, and Tyler almost spit out his pop. Andrew and Kenzie learned a life lesson, as what went around came around, and they lost Uno...again. Lona was proud of beating Caleb and Jake at pool in only three moves. At the end of the night, everyone reluctantly headed back into the cold, promising to gather again next month.
