

The Sirens

1. Verb - Non 3Rd Person Singular Present

The Sirens

You know what a Siren probably is, but if you don't, I can explain. A Siren is a monster that charms people with their voices, but to maintain that power, they have to feed on the negativity of other people. So there. But these sirens aren't really sirens. They are just average girls that sing like sirens and they named their band 'The Sirens'. Their leader is Jenny Song (formally known as Jenny Song the Great). Jenny put together their band. The other members are called Mai-Ling and Jennifer, who sing backup and sometimes the melody. Jenny's ex-boyfriend Owen was one of Mai-Ling and Jennifer's friends so you can imagine the hatred. While singing one of their songs, Jenny turned off the computer that had their music on it. Mai-Ling and Jennifer tried to reason with her to turn it back on, but Jenny refused. You _____ Verb - Non 3rd Person Singular Present she was doing something bad. So did Mai-Ling and Jennifer. But after a few minutes, Jenny turned the music back on, but this wasn't their song. This was another one that Jenny created. Jenny explained that this was a sorry song to Owen. Jennifer convinced Owen to come to their theatre while Jenny and Mai-Ling rehearsed their part. After Owen came in and heard their song, he immediately gave Jenny a hug and forgave her. The four went to a cafe named Jaffa's while they drank milkshakes, chatted and took duck-faced selfies. They were happy forever.