The Day I Hit a Homerun

It was the bottom of the first inning in the championship game when I was 11. We were at Lions Field on a _____ Adjective and _____ Adjective July evening. It was a night game so we were playing under the _____ Noun - Plural. Our team was already down 2-0 so we had to make something happen and fast.

I was in the on-deck circle trying to time the pitcher. I _____ Verb - Past Tense my _____ Adjective _____ Noun - Plural with my bat and walked up to the plate. Then, I let 2 pitches go by that were balls. I

_____ Verb - Past Tense at the third pitch and _____ Adverb missed it. The next pitch came in fast and about belt high on the outside of the plate.

I dropped my hips and went with the pitch and hit it very hard. I _____ Verb - Past Tense out of the batters box and saw the _____ Noun had went past the right fielder and was going to the wall. I slid so _____ Adverb into home plate and just barely beat the tag from the catcher. When I got back to the plate my teammate said, " _____ Interjection, that ball was flying!" We went on to win the game 9-7 in extra innings.
