The Fishing Trip

It was Adjective summer day, the wind was blowing slightly, chickens were all over the place picking worms out of the ground, so it was a perfect day to go fishing. My sister Izzie, my brother Ephraim, and my dad and I went down to the Beaver Creek Bridge. When we got there we went under the bridge to find the best spot possible. We got the worms out of the Noun and hooked them onto our fishing poles, which were made out of Noun - Plural and Noun.

Then we Adverb Verb - Past Tense our bait out into the very shallow water and waited. My little sister Izzie was the first person to catch a fish, meanwhile no one else had. The flow of the fish had started so eventually everyone caught a fish except for me. My brother and I moved to the other side. I guess I was at the right place at the right time because Interlection I caught a Adjective fish! We were all fishing and our dog Loki came down to the creek. He smelled the fish and Verb - Past Tense to where they were and ate them whole.

After that everyone was tired of mud, smelly water and the sunlight we Adverb Verb - Base Form home with fishing poles, Loki, and no fish. To our surprise we came home to a Adjective lunch of sandwiches, chips, and lemonade. I learned that fishing isn't boring and I can't wait to do it again.
