

Dirt.

1. Interjection
2. Verb - Base Form
3. Verb - Base Form
4. Adjective
5. Noun
6. Noun
7. Adjective
8. Adverb
9. Noun
10. Verb - Base Form
11. Adverb
12. Verb - Base Form
13. Noun
14. Adjective

Dirt.

_____! I _____ the porch door shut. I _____ outside on my _____ 4 year old body. I saw my _____ and _____ eating my dogs food and then I said to myself " Well since they can eat food mommy doesn't make, then so can I."

I stepped down the _____ stairs, barely keeping balance, and took notice to my dog, Happy, laying down. I walked over to her all _____ knowing she was waiting to see me all morning. I plopped right next to her and started talking about my _____ eating her food, while I was _____, I glared at my cousin and brother still betting each other to eat her food. Although she didn't do much, I could _____ tell she was _____. I looked away towards Happy and I saw that she was licking the dirt off the ground. Since my family was eating weird things, I wanted to as well. I tried some of the nasty dirt with her and I thought it was like heaven.

I'm not sure why I actually thought this was a good idea in the long run, but I did it. I figured out that my big family is really weird and gross. I also learned that eating dirt, with my _____ wasn't a very _____ decision, at the least.