An Aesop Story

Two _____, walking in the noonday sun, _____ the shade of a widespreading tree to rest. As they lay _____ up _____ the pleasant leaves, they saw that it was a Plane Tree.

"How _____ is the Plane!" said one of them. "It bears no _____, and only serves to _____ the ground with leaves."

"_____ creatures!" said a voice from the Plane Tree. "You lie here in my cooling shade, and yet you say I am _____! Thus ungratefully, O _____, do men receive their _____!"
