

un dragon

1. Noun - Plural
2. Adjective
3. Place
4. Number
5. Number
6. Number
7. Place
8. Number
9. Noun - Plural
10. Noun - Plural
11. Noun - Plural
12. Noun - Plural
13. Noun - Plural
14. Noun - Plural
15. Noun

un dragon

Deep in the Noun - Plural lived a dragon.

Every hundred years he wakes up. He is very Adjective.

"I want some breakfast," he said.

He went down the mountain to the village.

He saw a boy. "Yum, a boy for breakfast!"

"Don't eat me!" said Sia. "I'll give you some food."

Sia took the dragon to his Place.

He ate Number plates of chicken and rice.

"I'm still hungry," said the dragon.

Sia gave the dragon more food.

He ate Number plates of noodles and Number sausages.

He was still hungry!

They went to the Place.

The dragon ate twenty meatballs and fifty fish balls with twelve plates of sticky rice.

After that he ate Number puddings and a cake.

He was still hungry!

They went to the shop.

The

dragon ate all the fruit and _____: _____ and

_____, _____, _____ and _____.

He was still a bit hungry!

Sia looked in his _____.

There was one bomb that looked like candy. He gave the candy to the dragon.

The dragon exploded!

"Hooray!" shouted Sia. The dragon is gone! No more boys for breakfast!"