Well hello there, I am Laura and today me and my dad are going to see Dr. John Vitan for our bimonthly checkup. Our appointment is at 11:45. Dad says it's time to go to the doctor's office and I'm climbing into my dad's van. Thank you dad for putting on _____ Adjective _____ music. I love reggae music. OH NO! There's an accident on the road. We have to take a different route to get there. Oh my! Listen to this boring commercial about Grouper's Fish Soup. Blah, blah, blah. Finally we're here. We get out of the van and start walking to the doctor's office. Our receptionist, Hilda tells us Dr. John Vitan is busy with a different patient doing surgery. I hope I don't have surgery. It's a long wait while your doctor is doing surgery on someone. Finally, Dad lets me play on his iPad. He tells me I can only play Diamond Digger. Dad is the best at that game. He is on level 356. I have to bring the water to the fireflies. The one thing I like about the doctor's office is that at 11:30, the lady with the food trolley arrives. I have an omelette with mozzarella, 3 strips of bacon, and a cinnamon bran muffin.

Hilda calls my name and
