the noise

It was a dark Adjective stormy day. My Noun and I were watching a movie on the Noun. We heard a Adjective crackling noise and the television suddenly turned off. "What happened?" I asked. There was no response. "Noun??" Where did she go, I wondered. Then there was a bang. "m--o--m, was that you?" I stuttered. The lights flickered on and off. I saw an image run by. It was much larger than my mom. I was Verb - Past Participle. I slowly crept down the hallway. "Creak" went the floorboards. I jumped in fright. Then I tripped over something. "ahh!" I screamed. The lights turned on. "Jack!" It was my pet Noun. "Honey are you ok?" asked my mom. "I just went in the other room to get a Noun. I guess we don't need it anymore". Well at least I know my mom is safe. But boy did that Noun scare me!!
