

Half of Wednesday ("___ to VERB" phrases)

1. Verb - Base Form
2. Verb - Base Form
3. Verb - Base Form
4. Verb - Base Form
5. Verb - Base Form
6. Verb - Base Form
7. Verb - Base Form
8. Verb - Base Form
9. Verb - Base Form
10. Verb - Base Form
11. Verb - Base Form
12. Verb - Base Form
13. Verb - Base Form
14. Verb - Base Form

Half of Wednesday ("___ to VERB" phrases)

If you cut the week in half, you get half of Wednesday.

What can you do with half a day?

Maybe you can start to _____ a book, or start to _____ a bunch of bugs and begin to grow them.

But maybe you'll never finish all of this.

You can begin to _____ for a race or start to _____ a cake for Mom, who will love you more for trying to _____ a smile on everyone's face.

She will maybe, also, laugh more,

as you try to _____ your cake

so that it can start to _____ the entire world and all the bugs you started to collect.

But with half of the week, you won't finish.

Don't stop now--keep going:

Know that you won't have to _____ up!

When you wake up, start to _____ all the windows, begin to _____ all the coins in the house, try to _____ all the food in the fridge.

So, even if you won't finish everything until the second half of Wednesday, please remember to _____ "Hello!"

to everyone you will start to _____.

Oh, and don't forget to _____,

"See you later!" too.