Summer Vacation

I felt so Adjective when summer vacation started. I had so many plans. My friends and I were going to travel to country, go activity, do activity, and eat food. But everything changed time later. I received a phone call from celebrity, inviting me to meet for dinner in country, all expenses paid! I felt so feeling! I Adverb agreed, and started to get ready. I packed my suitcase, including my favourite toy, and of course my favourite clothing. I past tense all the way to country, and celebrity greeted me at the airport. We took a vehicle to the restaurant, which was famous for its food. We ate Adverb and chatted for about time. After dinner, I was very homesick, so asked if I could borrow celebrity vehicle to take me back to hometown. I felt bad, but I missed my mother very much. I past tense all the way back, and I was very feeling to finally see my family again. It was a surprising turn of events!
