Wrong Turn

The movie begins with two college students, and and , who are rock climbing in the West Virginia Forest reaches the top, and looks at the view, while FemaleFour continues to climb starts to struggle and falls, but her climbing line catches her. She calls for to pull her up to the top of the cliff, but he doesn't respond. She sees, lying dead, and then his body is thrown off the cliff. Then, someone starts to pull up the cliff by her climbing line. She cuts the line and falls, landing on dead body. She manages to escape, and sees the trees moving and eerie laughs are heard almost reaches her car, but she trips over a piece of barbed wire, and is pulled back into the woods by an unseen force, screaming.
MaleOne MaleOneLastName, a medical student, is driving through the mountains of West Virginia on his way to a job interview. Due to a chemical spill in the road ahead, he is forced to take a different route. He stops at an old rundown gas station and meets an old man. The old man gives him directions to the other route, then shows a map detailing where to go takes the dirt road and drives off. As MaleOne is driving, his car begins to lose control and crashes into a Range Rover stranded in the middle of the road. The car belongs to a group of friends on a hiking trip: FemaleOne, her fianc MaleTwo , and a couple, MaleThree and FemaleThree . FemaleOne find a piece of barbed wire in the woods that was tied to a tree across the road after their tires were punctured.
FemaleOne , FemaleTwo , and MaleTwo go to the woods to find help. MaleOne joins

them, while	MaleThree	_ and	FemaleThree	stay with	the cars.	After	MaleThree	and
