With my many years of wisdom, here is my best advice to pull you through the years ahead: Don't forget that you should always You should never May your lives be filled with and You know how can get when they don't get their So always remember to their before you outside. Coffee is always a great suggestion, of course! But don't forget to the or they'll get all around the holidays. And last but not least, always, and I mean ALWAYS begin every conversation with, or else you put yourself at risk of ~FIN~
