

Winter Wonderland

1. Song

Winter Wonderland

Once upon a time on a , Song the Snowman men Jack Frost. They were on the way to the Jingle Bell Rock when all of the sudden one of the Jingle Bells on Jack's costume broke. "What are we going to do?" cried Frosty. "We will be late for the party and we will miss seeing all of our friends." "I know!" exclaimed Jack. I will blow up a nice frost and freeze time while we fix my Jingle Bell. "Blow, Blow Thou Winter Wind!" Jack cried. Time was completely frozen! A hush came over the forest and everything was soft and quiet and glittering softly under the night sky. The Night Winds continued to blow softly almost as if it were writing a Canon of Peace with each swoop of wind. "WOW!!" Frosty stood in awe, "This is truly a Winter Wonderland!" Jack stood with his arms crossed and a smirk on his face, "Yeah! My frosty winds are far better than my Autumn Winds." "Hurry" cried Frosty. "Let's fix your bell so we can go, I can't wait to get there. Its so far away we have to Circle 'Round the Moon just to get there." They quickly fixed the Jingle Bell and were ready to go. "Baby, It's Cold Outside" cried Frosty. Jack frost didn't feel anything, he loved the cold. "Please unfreeze the time so we can go." "Well, there is one problem" said Jack, "You see, my name is JACK FROST, I don't know how to unfreeze things." Frosty began to cry, "We are going to miss the party and its all your fault!" "Don't worry, we will just wait until morning." They waited and just as the sun was about to rise the fog from the icy grass began to melt, there was fog and fluttering air everywhere! Frosty looked in awe and said, "Oh Jack, this truly is a Morning Paradise." Just then the ice really melted rapidly and you could hear trickling way down the hill the Song of the River. Jack froze Frosty enough that he could still walk without melting so they could still make it to the other side of the horizon to party with their friends. They arrived soon after and they sand Cantar! with their friends.

Jack

and Frosty became best friends that day and vowed to always stay friends. At the end of the party they rode off into the sunset while their friends sang the Irish Blessing. Happy Holidays, Jack and Frosty and to all of our friends reading this story.