Letter To Mom

March 10, Number

Dear Proper Noun,

Thank you for coming to my student-led conference. I will probably be Verb - Present Tense this over your shoulder because you have dragged me along with you even though I specifically said I didn't want to come.

Anyways, in this letter, I will be explaining my Adjective day at school to you, even though you already know since you've asked me before.

At the beginning of the Location day, before the bell rings, I usually put my stuff in my first Location and spend some time with a couple of my Noun - Plural. Currently, I have options first.

After options are completed, I have Event, Event, lunch, Event, reading period, Social Studies, and Event. This period rotation will change in April.

At lunch, I eat with a group of Noun - Plural in my homeroom. During recess, I usually go to the library to study or read. I tend to hang out with Proper Noun, Proper Noun, and Proper Noun, but not always. Sometimes, I go Preposition but not usually because it tends to lead to me Verb - Present Tense to my homeroom so I'm not late. In reading period, I Verb - Past Tense (obviously) but since my homeroom teacher also teaches my next class, Social Studies, we sometimes use reading period to work on Social.

After

school, I grab my stuff from my _____ _____ to the bus stop together. Sometimes, my friend comes to my locker but her locker is closer to the bus stop so not often.

I try to challenge myself at _____ by doing extra research and finishing all my _____ early.

This year, my goal is to get honours(all A's). To do this, I work hard in _____ and listen to the teacher.

I _____ for tests and try my best at school.

Thank you for coming to this conference(but not really). I hope you are _____ enough with my work to not _____ me when we get back in the car(but please don't start _____ me either).

Love,
