Adam's Mad Lib

On a stormy night I had a _____<sup>Noun</sup> on my face even though I was failing at sailing. Usually being on a boat is a _____<sup>Adjective</sup> feeling. Like I'd imagine it feels like to be a dancing kitten. _____<sup>Pronoun</sup> fur flying through the air with such skill. All of a sudden I was _____<sup>Verb - Past Tense</sup> in the head by the mast. I used to think it looked like the thin _____<sup>Noun</sup> of a new branch, but after getting hit I'm starting to rethink that opinion. Right after that, water _____<sup>Verb - Past Tense</sup> over the sides and I decided that maybe I should bail on this whole sailing thing.
