

Celebrating the 2016 Grads!

1. Verb - Base Form
2. Measure Of Quantaty
3. Adjective
4. Noun - Plural

Celebrating the 2016 Grads!

On behalf of the captioning and court reporting graduating class of 2016, we would (Verb - Base Form) to thank you for coming this evening. We have (measure of quantity) of quantity) of fun things planned for the evening, but first, allow me to introduce our grads. Going in the order of our last (Adjective) plan, we have Natalie who likes to glue (Noun - Plural) on paying customers at her house. Keegan who was (verb) by the police for trafficking (noun), and then there is Eileen who is a future super (adjective) court reporter. Rianna is the (adjective) person in class. Then we have Valarie who recently (past tense verb). While Kim is always (gerund [-ing noun] in class and Tenaya is always (adjective) in class. Over Christmas, Katey got (verb), and is getting (verb) in the summer! Daniella's (noun) is contagious and Ace likes to wear Dad (noun). Gabby enjoys (-ing verb) at lunch and Cassie likes to (noun) before testing. Then there is Katie who can tell you anything about (noun) and Chelsey who is always (-ing verb) in class is surprised that Jordan's metabolism is so amazing because she eats (noun) as a 10 o'clock snack. Amanda likes to spread peanut butter on her toast and Olivia like to (verb) books. Brooklyn is considered the (adjective) seatmate, and Keirstin is always forgetting her (noun) everywhere, and Eliane is known for her delicious (noun).

Tonight you get the (noun) of celebrating the (adjective) students as we embark on this (verb) new journey.