Ants

There are ants in my pocket from _____ Verb - Present ends in ING _____ on the floor. It all started when I decided to have a picnic. I made _____ Noun - Plural _____ and lemonade. Next, I walked to the _____ Noun _____ with _____ Proper Noun _____, and we sat down on blanket. The weather was nice, and _____ Adverb _____ were flowers that smelt _____ Adjective _____. We _____ Verb - Base Form _____ out our plates and cups, filled them, and began to eat. After that, we realized we had made a big mistake. Both of us had candy in our pockets, and we did not know that ants really like candy. When we _____ Verb - Past Tense _____ up to go on a walk, Jemma put her hands in her pockets, and she paused mid-step. She looked down and started to yell. That is when I put my hands in my pockets to check and see if I had them in my pocket too, and I did. In conclusion, it is a bad idea to have food in your pocket when you have a picnic.
