The Tale of Raymond David (Part 3)

Noun - Plural
Number - Ends In Th
Noun - Plural
Noun
Verb - Present Ends In Ing
Verb - Base Form
Verb - Present Ends In Ing

The Tale of Raymond David (Part 3)

At first, many Noun-Plural joined Raymond David on the dance floor. After the song repeated for the Number-Endsin TH time, Noun-Plural began to leave. So caught up in the current of the song, he did not notice he was alone. Soon, the band grew tired of the song and one by one they left the stage. But even when the music stopped, Raymond David did not notice for he had already lost his Noun and could hear the music Verb-Present ends in ING in his ears. Eventually, the dance floor seemed too small and he continued in the outdoors. The last time anyone saw him, he was dancing into the forest, yelling, "GET IT, BOY! IT'S YOUR BIRFDAY!"

The End

©2025 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.