Dragon and Monster

In a realm where monsters roam free, one little monster in particular, was told by his teacher Noun.
First Name of a Person, to get some information on the human realm. This realm was really dangerous for monsters, but his teacher didn't mind as long as they brought a dragon, a well known dragon in this realm known as the Proper Noun Proper Noun, which is a small dragon that has a huge flame that it holds in it stomach. The little monster and his dragon were heading off into the direction to the human realm when a huge gust of wind blew by. The little monster was sure that her knew what happened. He said "Come on, Run!" as he started to run with the dragon behind him. When the monster and the dragon got to the realm dividers there was a hole in an end, it was only tiny be was big enough for the small monster to fit through. He was scared, but the dragon motivated the little monster into the hole. Once inside the hole, he was to the school near the realm dividers located along a street called Proper Noun Proper Noun. He got in the school and wrote notes oh how the humans live the life they live. Once done, the dragon and monster went trough the hole back to their homes and were Noun the title Monster of the Year and Dragon of the Year.
