A Egalitarian, Feminist Ceremony

1.	Noun - Plural
2.	Celebrity
	Noun
4.	Deity
5.	Noun
6.	Number
7.	Adjective
8.	Adjective
9.	Adjective
10.	Part Of Body
	Website
12.	Title Of Book
13.	Adjective
14.	Noun - Plural
15.	Person In Room
16.	Number
17.	Verb - Base Form
18.	Verb - Past Tense
19.	Verb - Base Form
20.	Noun
21.	Number
22.	Number
23.	Noun

24.	Verb - Present Ends In S
25.	Adjective
26.	Noun - Plural
27.	Person In Room
28.	Adjective
29.	Noun
30.	Verb - Base Form
31.	Noun
32.	Noun
33.	Celebrity
34.	Noun
35.	Noun - Plural
36.	Verb - Base Form
37.	Verb - Base Form
38.	Deity
39.	Noun
40.	Noun - Plural
41.	Foreign Word

A Egalitarian, Feminist Ceremony

Noun - Plural , welcome. Thank you for being here. We have been invited here to share this special day with Bird and Tree said 'love is a string of coincidences that gather significance and become
' Tree and Bird don't know why blessed them to meet each other and to fall in love
, Repeat Last deity did bless them.
Marriage is that blessed Noun wherein equals 'join in their strength,' forming a partnership in which 'there is none called the least, or the greatest.'
partnership in which there is none canca the least, of the greatest.
Today, we gather with them as they embark on this new part of their journey together. Life's journey is ; it is a journey 'of becoming.' While life is often challenging, with love we can 'gladden the hearts of those who are traveling the often journey with us." Because we have love, 'life, even amidst pain and" struggle, becomes beautiful. As the late,Bob Ross told us, 'It's amazing what you can do with a little love in your' People like to talk about love. The page on love has almost as many words as all the title of book combined. There are more than 10,000 Repeat Last website articles with 'love' in the title. It seems that 'some people wanna fill the world with love love and other loveydovey-ness. But there's nothing wrong with that, so we're gonna have some readings on love.
, 'Love seeketh not'
Serving each other is integral to love. 'Love is mutually feeding each other, not parasitically living on another.' Love calls us to abandon "the scales that verb - Base Form our vision,' scales of selfishness that obscure 'our equal humanity.' Love rejects "the notion that we're rather than linked.' Love says, 'I'll with you." Love does not keep score and demand, "Pay me that thou owest." Rather it invites us to say, 'Please tell me how I can love you better.' The love between Tree and Bird will continue to grow as they care for each other.
Noun unites a couple 'so they are no longer Number, but Number.' The partners are on the same Noun, 'for in love there are no penalties and no payments, and what is given is indistinguishable

from what is received.' Throughout the changes that life Adjective age and Noun - Plural cover' them, Tree and Bird are to remain true to each other.
writes about the moment she came to understand love: 'The beautiful truth burst upon my mindI felt that there wereAdjective lines stretched between my and the spirits of others Tree and Bird are grateful to feel these connections, both with each other and with all of you.
Bird and Tree, you are about to make some important commitments to each other. You will to be each other's companion and constant You will pledge to share life together, to be a, to care for each other, to support each other, to be faithful to each other, to be there for each other.
This is a great day. But it is not an end notes, 'I have discovered the that after climbing a great hill, one only finds that there are many more to climb. I have taken a moment here to rest, to a view of the glorious vista that surrounds me, to look back on the distance I have come. But my walk is not yet ended.'
And now, Bird and Tree, 'I you united by the ties of marriage.' 'May bless this marriage that it may be a of compassion, a seal of happiness here and hereafter,' 'an ever-fixed mark that looks on Noun - Plural and is never shaken.' foreign word.

©2025 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.