Riding Lesson

My first riding lesson was at _____ Noun Stables. The instructor introduced me to my mount whose name was _____ Verb - Present Tense. He was a big _____ Noun with a white _____ Noun on his face. When I first got on his back I felt _____ Adverb. The instructor started us on the lunge line. Suddenly, a plastic bag blew across the corner of the ring. _____ Noun spooked and started _____ Verb - Present Tense. I grabbed onto his _____ Noun and held on for dear life. He jumped over the _____ Noun and ran back to the barn. I stayed on until the last moment when I fall off into a pile of _____ Noun. The instructor came running up and asked if I was okay. I said, " _____ ! I've never felt so _____ !"
