Papyrus' Problem

Once there was a skeleton named Papyrus who loved _____^{food}_____. His brother, named Sans, makes puns all the time and Papyrus despises it. One day Papyrus was making spaghetti, like he usually did, when Sans _____^{movement}_____ _____^{Preposition}_____ with a bottle of ketchup because he loved ketchup, and said, "Hey Papyrus, I haven't seen you in a while, so how about we ketchup?" Papyrus yelled, "Stop the puns, Sans!" as he put the spaghetti on _____^{Number}_____ plates. This was a normal day for the two of them, except a visitor came. Mettaton, a robot, _____^{movement}_____ _____^{Preposition}_____ and he yelled, "I'm here!" Papyrus looked at Mettaton with a shocked expression. "I didn't know you were coming," said Papyrus, getting another plate out for Mettaton. The robot walked over to Papyrus and started glitching for some unknown reason. Mettaton said, "Error, error!" and dumped all of the spaghetti on Papyrus' head. Papyrus screamed, "The spaghetti's ruined so we can't have any dinner now!" Sans walked to the _____^{Noun}_____ and took out another _____^{Noun}_____ of spaghetti. "Where did you get that!" Papyrus yelled. Sans answered, "We have leftovers from last _____^{day or time}_____." So Papyrus microwaved the spaghetti and the _____^{Number}_____ of them had a nice _____^{food}_____ _____^{Event}_____.
