The Free Press

UConn Free Press is a collective of grassroots Noun - Plural dedicated to providing an open outlet for Adjective news and analysis. We are committed to using media production and distribution as Noun - Plural for promoting social justice in the Corporate Institution area.

We are dedicated to addressing issues that: are of particular concern to Corporate Institution students, alternative issues the mainstream media neglects, as well as Noun - Plural our members feel are Adjective and currently lack Adjective attention and awareness.

We do not conceal our political idea behind a false objectivity. We will empower Noun - Plural to "become the Noun" by working to provide access to Adjective technologies and information. We encourage our members and submitters to use form of expression, as well as _____ form of expression _____ , to express feelings and information or opinions concerning _____ current events _____ or _____ social issues _____ .
