Graduating from Speech

Once there was a _____ student named _____ who started speech in _____ grade. After working very hard to say " _____," the student got to graduate from speech. That meant, instead of leaving class to work on speech, the student stayed in class with friends to _____. On the last day of speech, Mrs. Lamb threw a party to celebrate the student's hard work. The party was so fun! Everyone ate _____ and _____! After that day, the student stayed in class with the other _____ students instead of leaving to work on speech. The student's teacher was happy to have her in class, but one day the student was sad and missed going to speech. The student went to the _____ speech room and said " _____" to Mrs. Lamb. Mrs. Lamb was happy to see the student and thanked her for stopping by the speech room. Then the student went back to class and felt happy.
