The Dragon slayer

Once upon a time there was a dragon named Proper Noun . He was Verb - Present Tense and a loud volcano woke him up and he ended up in Proper Noun in a medal cage.

There were three guys with spears and pistols.

They were helping Proper Noun get away from the dragon slayer. Then Proper Noun broke out of the medal cage and went to a cave on a volcano. He saw a different kind of dragon and the weird dragon named Proper Noun chased Proper Noun out of the cave. Then took him right to the dragon slayer which was hiding behind a Noun .

Then a fire proof cage fell on him, and then Proper Noun laughed then flew away. Then the dragon slayer started to sharpen his Noun - Plural , because there was a Noun on Proper Noun , who ever caught Proper Noun would get 1 million gold coins.

When the dragon slayer returned Proper Noun was free from the fire proof cage, and the dragon slayer threw a Noun on Proper Noun and Proper Noun burned the rope and went home to Proper Noun , and the dragon slayer gave up and Proper Noun lived a good life.
