The Boy Who Lived

Mr. and Mrs. Du	rsley, of number four, Privet Drive, were to say that they wereAdverb
Adjective	_, thank you very much. They were the last people you'd expect to be involved in anything
Adjective	or, because they just didn't hold with such nonsense.
Mr. Dursley was	the Noun of a firm called Grunnings, which made Noun . He was a
Adjective	, man with hardly any , although he did have a very large mustache. Mrs. I	Dursley was and and and had nearly twice the usual amount of Part of Body	, which came in very useful as she spent so much of her time over garden fences,	on the neighbors. The Dursleys had a small called Dudley and in their opinion there wa	s no finer boy anywhere.
The Dursleys had	d everything they wanted, but they also had a, and their greatest Emotion was that somebo	dy would discover it. They didn't think they could bear it if anyone found out about the Potters.
Mrs. Potter was l	Mrs. Dursley's, but they hadn't met for several years; in fact, Mrs. Dursley pretended she die	dn't have a Relation, because her Relation and her good-for-nothing husband were as unDursle	eyish as it was possible to be. The Dursleys shuddered to think what the neighbors would if	the Potters arrived in the The Dursleys knew that the Potters had a small Relation	, too, but they had never even seen him. This boy was another good reason for keeping the
Potters

When Mr. and Mrs. Dursley woke up on the Adjective, Adjective Tuesday our story starts, there was nothing about the Adjective sky outside to suggest that Adjective and Adjective things would soon be happening all over the country. Mr. Dursley hummed as he picked out his most Adjective tie for work, and Mrs. Dursley gossiped away Emotion as she wrestled a Adjective Dudley into his high chair. None of them noticed a ______, tawny _____ flutter past the window. and tried to Verb Dudley good-bye but missed, because Dudley was now having a tantrum and Verb his cereal at the walls. "Little tyke," chortled Mr. Dursley as he left the house. He got into his Noun and backed out of number four's drive. It was on the Preposition of the street that he noticed the first sign of something Determiner -- a _____ reading a _____ Noun ____. For a second, Mr. Dursley didn't realize what he had seen -- then he jerked his _____ around to look again. There was a tabby _____ standing on the corner of Privet Drive, but there wasn't a _____ in sight. What could he have been _____ of? It must have away; they didn't want Dudley mixing with a child like that.
