My high school days, and what I learned from them.

My name's First Name of a Person.

It has been Number long years since I graduated high school. Oh those were the days...Back in high school, I was the Adjective type of person. The type of person that the school bully, First Name of a Person, would Verb - Base Form in the Noun - Plural everyday. Once, same first name as before

Verb - Base Form my lunchbox, and then Verb - Base Form me in the Part of Body with a Noun. But enough about that...anyways...I had a few Adjective and Adjective hobbies when I was in high school. I was captain of the Noun team, and I also loved Noun and Noun. My Adjective - Ends in EST hobby though, would have to be Verb - Present ends in ING. I loved to read anything I could Verb - Base Form my Adjective Part of Body on.

I learned a amount: ton little lot decent amount ect of Adjective things in high school. One of the Adjective - Ends in EST Adjective lessons that I learned was that you can never or always trust a

Noun...No matter how many Noun - Plural you Verb - Base Form, they will always Verb - Base Form one more.

The second lesson is that you should never or always date a boy or girl named First Name of a Person. he or she was the most Adjective, Adjective boyfriend or girlfriend I have ever had...infact, he or she- same gender as before is the only one I ever had...First Name of a Person, please call me...

The last lesson I learned is that you should never or always listen to your Adjective Noun.

You don't know how many times Adjective situations could have been Verb - Past Tense if I had just Verb - Past Tense that...
