

Master & Servant

1. Noun
2. Adjective
3. Noun
4. Noun
5. Adjective
6. Number
7. Adjective
8. Adjective
9. Noun
10. Noun
11. Noun - Same As The Last One
12. Noun
13. Noun
14. Adjective
15. Noun

Master & Servant

A young woman just bought a large           Noun          . She was very           Adjective           and loved how big it was.

She thinks that big houses means that there is more stuff to do since you can put more           Noun           in them.

She filled up the house with all her           Noun           and was very           Adjective           for a long time. About

          Number           years later, she started to feel           Adjective           because she had no one to be with and to share everything           Adjective           she had. So she thought a couple of times until she thought of something that could help her. She thought that she is still rich, and could use some           Noun           a lot. So what is better to than having a           Noun          ? The woman hired a           Noun - Same as the last one           and taught her the many ways of how to act like on in her           Noun          . The servant called the woman Master, and the woman called the servant servant. The servant lived with the master in a           Noun           room the master had. The servant would do whatever the Master says, and the Master was           Adjective           because she had           Noun          .