August 14th. The date on the calendar stared back at me like a pair of _____ Adjective eyes from a _____ Animal. As I reflected back on my relaxing summer of _____ Verb Present ends in ING and _____ Verb _____ Present ends in ING, many emotions ran through my _____ Part of Body. Memories of sipping on _____ Beverage- plural as I lounged by the pool in _____ City, rereading my favorite novel, Tale of the Missing _____ Noun, and learning to _____ skill all seemed like a distant dream.

Suddenly, my phone went _____ Sound! and there it was- the first email from Team Manderson making sure we were ready to _____ Verb Base Form and _____ Verb Base Form, ensuring us that this will be the _____ Adjective Ends in EST year ever at Eaton Elementary. As I scrolled down to paragraph _____ number, there it was- the news that I would have a special mentee working alongside me, the one and only _____ Famous _____ Person. I always admired him/her for his/her _____ Skill ending in ING, and just hoped he/she was as talented in working with children. _____ Interjection! Just like that my nerves turned into excitement as I geared up for the first day back- seeing old colleagues and meeting new teammates. I felt invigorated to revamp my lesson on _____ Noun Plural with the help of the one and only _____ Same Famous Person as Before. It's time to dig in to a new year. While I'll miss binge watching _____ TV Show I can feel it in my _____ Part of Body that it's time to get back to the _____ Adjective work of inspiring young minds. Cheers to a _____ Adjective year ahead!
