Schools out!!!

Tears _____ Verb Present ends in S down my cheeks the moment _____ Noun remember my last day at school. It was a moment of _____ Adjective parting. That day was my last chapter of the most glorious book of my life as a student.

I spent 10 years as a _____ Noun in my school. It was an unforgettable golden period for me. It passed away like a _____ Adjective dream.

All of us were _____ Adjective as we were going to get rid of the strict _____ Adverb life of school. We were _____ Adjective & unhappy because we were going to part from our friends and lovable teachers. We were given holidays to study and prepare for our coming board examinations. _____ Noun Plural were focusing over revising the papers. They said that it is easier to impress the examiner with few _____ Adverb written words than filling pages full of errors. They advised us to not to get _____ Adjective but face the exams with courage. Our _____ Noun also arranged sessions to discuss our difficulties with the teachers.

The other students had organized a farewell party for us on our departure. We all were in a sad mood as it was a day to say good bye. We _____ Verb Past Tense in our assembly hall. We were welcomed with flowers. Our juniors served us tea & chocolates.

The

_____ Noun Plural prepared lots of activities to make that day special for us. They sung songs, danced, prayed and prepared speech to show their gratitude towards us.

Those words of wisdom and prayers are still _____ Verb Past Tense in my ears.

After the program was over we took pictures with our teachers and Principal. My throat was totally _____ Adjective to utter a single word to thank and bid good bye to all those who made my school life meaningful.

I can never ever forget that last day at school.
