Jurassic Park

The late twentieth century has _____ Verb Past Tense a _____ Adjective gold rush of _____ Adjective proportions: the headlong and furious haste to _____ Verb genetic _____ Verb Present ends in ING. This _____ Noun has proceeded so rapidly-with so little outside commentary-that its _____ Noun Plural and _____ Noun Plural are hardly understood at all. Biotechnology promises the greatest revolution in _____ Noun history. By the end of this decade, it will have outdistanced atomic _____ Noun and _____ Noun Plural in its effect on our everyday _____ Noun Plural. In the words of one _____ Noun, "Biotechnology is going to _____ Verb every aspect of _____ Noun life: our _____ Noun, our _____ Noun, our _____ Noun, our _____ Noun, our very _____ Noun Plural. Nothing will ever be the same again. It's literally going to change the face of the _____ Noun."
