A Christmas Carol

Meanwhile the fog and darkness thickened so, that people ______ about with ______ verb Present ______ ends in ING links, Verb Present ends in ING their services to go before horses in carriages, and conduct them on their way. The ancient tower of a church, whose _______ old bell was always peeping Adjective down at Scrooge out of a Adjective window in the wall, became invisible, and struck the hours and quarters in the clouds, with Adjective vibrations afterwards as if its teeth were chattering in its frozen head up there. The cold became _______. In the main street, at the corner of the court, some Noun Plural were repairing the Noun Plural, and had lighted a great fire in a brazier, round which a party of ______ Miective _____ men and boys were gathered: warming their hands and winking their eyes before the blaze in rapture. The water-plug being left in solitude, its overflowings sullenly congealed, and turned to misanthropic ice. The brightness of the shops where Noun Plural and Noun Plural crackled in the lamp heat of the windows, made pale faces ruddy as they passed. Poulterers' and grocers' trades became a Adjective joke: a Adjective pageant, with which it was next to impossible to believe that such Adjective principles as bargain and sale had anything to do. The Lord Mayor, in the stronghold of the mighty Mansion House, gave orders to his ______ cooks and butlers to keep Christmas as a Lord Mayor's household should; and even the Adjective tailor, whom he had fined Number shillings on the previous Monday for being Adjective and Adjective in the streets, stirred up to-morrow's pudding in his _____, while his lean wife and the baby sallied out to buy the _____.
