Aren't You Glad, You Didn't Turn On The Lights?

Two best friends _____<sup>Person</sup> and _____<sup>Person</sup>, live in the same room of the college dormitory.
