Reddit TIFU Potato Story

Let me tell you that I have made a Adjective mistake this time of day.

First Name of a Person (who let me tell you is only my ordinal girlfriend of all time) said I am "invited to Event" with her and her Noun Plural. I was very aghast, nervous, and emotion to be invited to such a situation. But I knew it must be done.

I met them Adverb, I should tell you, and it started off in a Adjective way. The idea slapped my Part of Body that I should do a comic bit, to make a good impression and become known to them as a person who is Adjective.

When I saw that baked Foods were served I got the idea that it would be very Adjective if I pretended I did not know what Repeat Last Food was. That would be Repeat Last Adjective.

Well let me tell you: backfired on my Part of Body. I'll tell you how.

So first when the Repeat Last Food became on my plate, I acted very Adjective. I showed an expression on my face so as to seem that I was emotion, astounded but in a Adjective way, curious, and interested. They did notice, and seemed emotion, but did not remark. So I asked "This looks very _____. Adjective. What is this?"

They stared at me and the _____ family member said "It's a baked _____ Repeat Last Food." And I was saying "Oh, interesting, a baked....what is it again?"

And she was like "A _____ Repeat Last Food."

And I was like "A _____ Repeat Last Food, oh interesting. Never heard of a _____ Repeat Last Food, looks pretty _____ Adjective."

And then they didn't see I was clowning, but thought I really did not know what is a _____ Repeat Last Food. So I knew I would be very shamed, humiliated, depressed, and _____ emotion if I admitted to making a bad joke, so what I did was to act as if it was not a joke but I committed to the act of pretending I didn't know what a _____ Repeat Last Food is.

They asked me, VERY _____ Adverb, did I really not know what a _____ Repeat Last Food is? That I never heard of a _____ Repeat Last Food. I went with it and told them, yes, I did not ever even hear of a _____ Repeat Last Food. Not only had I never eaten a _____ Repeat Last Food I had never heard the word _____ Repeat Last Food.

This went on for a bit and my girlfriend was acting very Adjective and Adjective by my "Adjective antics", and then the more insistent I was about not knowing what a Repeat Last Food is was when their parents started thinking I DID know what a Repeat Last Food was.

Well let me tell you I had to commit Number% at this point. When I would not admit to knowing what a Repeat Last Food was, the family member especially began to get annoyed. At one point he said something like "Enough is enough. You're offensive verb ends in ING with us. Admit it." And I said "Title of person, before today yesterday etc I never heard of a Repeat Last Food. I still don't know what a Repeat Last Food is, other than some kind of food. I don't know what to tell you."

Well let me tell you he got very emotion. I decided to take a bite of the Repeat Last Food, and when I did I made a Adjective noise and said "Taste's very Adjective!"

That is when the family member started yelling at me, and the family member kept saying "What are you doing?" and my girlfriend went to some other Location.

Finally the family member said I should "Get the offensive word out of his Location" and I said it was Adjective to treat me like this just because I never heard of a Repeat Last Food before.

Well let me tell you he didn't take that Adverb.

Now in text messages I have been telling my girlfriend I really don't know what a Repeat Last Food is. The only way I can ever get out of this is for them to buy that I don't know what a Repeat Last Food is.

I wish I never started it but I can't go direction. I think she will break up with me anyway.
