Mrs. Stuckeys baby

Once upon a time, there was a Adjective woman named First name. She worked as a Job for Name or your school highschool. She was always Adjective and Adjective but she was still family to the band kids. One day she told us that she was pregnant and that she was having Number kids. She was going to name them. She was so happy about her future kids that she gave us all free Plural noun. That is until one day, michael and I took as the second choosen person"> kids and went to Location and one of them got stuck in the game, so we left him there. Next we went to Location but a hobo Past tense verb as the third name choosen, so we dicided just to look for him later. Then we went to but i think as fourth choosen person"> might have just ran away, but thats ok because he was a Adjective kid anyways. Last but not least we Past tense verb grandma stuckeys house for some tea but she Past tense verb us out and turned the last boy into pies. When we got back to Mrs. to tell her we lost her kids, she Past tense verb in circles and Verb into a Adjective mist. the end.
