A day in the life of a TSO

The life of a Animal at work consist of two areas Event and Event. The day begins as usual with a Verb ending in ing. As the name implies they are Noun. Then it is off to Noun. Our main job is to Verb that the First name is safe by Verb ending in ing them and their Noun. In baggage we wait for Event to come down a belt to our Location so we can inspect them by Noun. if needed we look in the Noun to checkout suspicious Animal. Checkpoint is a lot of the same except the First name walks or rolls up to us and places their Noun on the belt to be screened by Noun. Also the Animal inspects the First name either by the metal Event or the Location. If needed, a Noun is given to the First name to make sure they are Event. This cycle continues everyday with little Noun. But if we as Animal do our jobs well Verb ending in ing will happen in the Location.
