Soccer

Soccer is a team sport played between two teams of _____^{Number}_____ players each. Soccer is played in accordance with a set of rules, known as the Laws of the _____^{Plural noun}_____. The game is played using a single _____^{Adjective}_____ ball and two teams each compete to get the ball into the other team's goal, thereby scoring a goal.

The Laws of the Game do not specify any player positions other than goalkeeper, but a number of player specialisations have evolved. Broadly, these include three main categories: strikers, or forwards, whose main task is to _____^{Verb} _____^{Plural noun}_____; defenders, who specialise in preventing their opponents from _____^{Verb ending in ing}_____; and midfielders, who _____^{Verb}_____ the opposition and keep possession of the ball in order to pass it to the forwards; players in these positions are referred to as _____^{Adjective}_____ players, in order to discern them from the single goalkeeper.
