Absent Minded

When _____^{Pronoun} look at an interesting object, _____^{Pronoun} like to stand there and stare. That has often caused me to get lost. If it has words, I will want to read it, _____^{Conjunction} if it has illustrations, I will want to study it. While I am making my observations, I will become _____^{Adjective} completely oblivious to everything happening in my surroundings. The only way for me to exit this state of mind is for me to snap out of it.

This _____^{Adverb} annoying habit can get _____^{Pronoun} lost because I am not paying any attention to my surroundings. If a _____^{Adjective} object gets me to think Wow! or Cool! I may actually walk _____^{Preposition} a wall or another person. When I am grocery shopping I look at _____^{Plural noun} because the labels _____^{Preposition} them are very interesting. I often spend more time looking at labels than at where _____^{Noun} going. If I have time I rarely glance at something interesting.
