Goerge _____<sup>Past tense verb</sup> toward the P.E locker room in a _____<sup>Adverb</sup> manner. He was very avid about being the first one in and out for some reason. Once he got in the locker room he _____<sup>Past tense verb</sup> the locker and checked if his clothes were still in there. He began running out of the locker room and he fell. He was in excruciating pain. Luckily he was very resilient. The abrasion on his knee was very scary so he ran to the bathroom and cleaned it. But instead of doing it in a gingerly way he did it in a cursory way. As he walked out he knew that something was amiss about the locker room. Goerge then continued on with his run that seemed so interminable. The scratch on his leg was really abhorrent to him as he kept looking down at it. Goerge was also running with his best friend Bob. Goerge looked up and noticed that there was a bunch of sharks in the sky. He then passed out and woke up. He was laying in his bed knowing the whole thing was just a dream. He was happy about that. Although , The dream haunted him.
